FEAR ATTEMPT ON FOCH'S LIFE: REROUTE TRAIN

French Military Leader
Arrives in Pittsburgh
Secretly.

LEGION GAVE TIP

Receives Honorary Degrees
From Two Universities in "Smoky City"

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10.—Marshall Foch of France arrived in Pittsburgh, shortly after 9 o'clock today. Originally he had been scheduled to come to the Pennsylvania station but the secret service had been advised through the American Legion that an attack might be made against the marshal and it was decided that no chances would be taken and he was shifted through Braddock, a suburb. Only the official reception committee and other high city officials knew of the secret change in the routing of the marshal's party and these were the only ones to welcome him at Braddock. Thousands waited in vain at the Pennsylvania station for a glimpse of the great warrior.

According to confidential information received by the International News Service, an attack had been hatched here against the great Frenchman. The details are not clear but the impression prevails that attempt to assassinate him was the aim.

That the U. S. secret service was cognizant of this was evidenced by the fact when Foch passed through Pittsburgh on his way to Kansas City a great crowd had assembled at the Pennsylvania station to greet him but as his train was about to arrive that morning the secret service agents in charge in Pittsburgh would permit no one to go near the marshal's car. Even the French consul in Pittsburgh, who is one of America's most distinguished physicians and scientists, was also barred. No explanation was made then or since of this action.

Today it became known that an anonymous tip said to have been sent by a Frenchman here, went to the legion authorities that an attack might be made. The details of this supposed plot have not been revealed. At any rate plans were changed secretly for the marshal's entry to this city and up to his arrival today but half a dozen people were aware of the change or why it had been made.

After Foch reached Braddock and had been welcomed he was hastily bundled into a waiting automobile and driven to Homestead, just across the river, where he was taken through the great Homestead plant of the U. S. Steel corporation.

After his visit there he was taken to Soldiers Memorial Hall where at 10:30 he was to receive honorary degrees from the University of Pittsburgh and also from Duquesne University.

Later a series of dinners and receptions followed. At 3 o'clock he is to head a great military and civic parade through the city.

GENERAL STRIKE
SPREADS RAPIDLY
ROME INDICATES

Walkout Paralyzes Railway Traffic to and From
Italian City.

Rome, Nov. 10.—The general strike called by the chamber of labor in protest against anti-radical activities of the fascists, was spreading rapidly today. The fascists, following their meeting here, held a parade during which there was some fighting between the paraders and striking railway workers. The general strike was called after the railway workers had protested to the fascist congresses against anti-socialist activities of members of that organization, particularly the attacks upon the communist deputies, signors Zanardi and Tuntar.

One railway worker was killed in a fight with the fascists.

Many members of the fascists have been arriving in Rome, Milan, and other cities to join their comrades.

The general strike has practically paralyzed traffic to and from Rome and the walkout of electric light workers has left the city in partial darkness at night.

THOUSANDS OFFER SILENT TRIBUTE BEFORE BIER OF UNKNOWN SOLDIER

Gray Haired Mothers, High Officials of Government, Battle Scarred Veterans and Envoy of World Powers File Revere ntly Past Catafalque Where Reposes America's Nameless Hero—Will Lie in State Until 10 p. m.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Moving reverently through the shadowed rotunda of the national capitol, gray haired mothers and high officials of the government, battle-scarred war veterans and envoys of world powers paid homage and tribute today at the bier of America's nameless hero.

Beneath a mountain of laurel and roses, he slept the sleep from which none may awake, reposing upon the catafalque which has borne Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, until he shall be buried at Arlington as a symbol of the love and gratitude of a mighty nation for her honored dead.

Only the wreath placed there by the president of the United States rested on the simple oaken casket when the sun rose over the great white dome of the capitol this morning. At 8 o'clock the solemn processions began. This afternoon scores of floral tributes had been deposited at the bier by religious, fraternal and military organizations and by representatives of foreign governments.

Thousands, who were not permitted to pause at the catafalque, filed through the rotunda, offering silent tribute. Tears expressive of the nation's profound sorrow glistened unashamed in many eyes as citizens of high and lower estate mingled in the endless human stream.

The unknown will lie in state until ten o'clock tonight guarded by a detachment of army engineers who have kept their vigil under the great dome since the body arrived from France last night. After 10 o'clock none will be admitted until the morning of Nov. 11, when the armistice day ceremonies begin.

The first delegation to arrive at the capitol today represented the federal council of churches. It comprised a number of leading ministers, who, after a few minutes at the casket, gave way to members of the American Ambulance Association. Wreaths were then deposited by officials of the Rotary clubs, and behind the Rotarians came members of the National Women's Overseas service league—themselves veterans of grueling days on dusty roads and in muddy trenches.

The United Spanish War Veterans, men who served with Roosevelt and Dewey, marched by, their heads bowed. They were followed by officers and men who served with Pershing—members of the forty second, twenty eighth and eighty second divisions of the A. E. F.

At 10 o'clock, Vice President Coolidge entered the rotunda to take part in the first formal ceremonies of the day. They were conducted by the veterans of foreign wars, composed entirely of men who saw service outside the United States.

After the veterans of foreign wars had retired, wreaths were laid upon the catafalque by representatives of the thirty seventh division, the veterans of Indian wars, the Peruvian embassy, the Daughters of Veterans, the Portuguese delegation and the boy scouts of America.

Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, came accompanied by his staff to pay Great Britain's tributes. He was followed by the national officers of the American Red Cross and former members of the sixth division, who arrived shortly after noon.

In rapid succession, pausing only to lay flowers upon the casket and murmur a brief prayer, there passed the Women of the Army and Navy Legion of Valor, officers of the Young Men's Christian Association, men of the second and fifth divisions, A. E. F., women of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary, the U. S. Daughters of 1812, the Young Women's Christian Association and the Women's Overseas League.

Secretary of State Hughes, General Pershing and other high dignitaries received the delegation on behalf of the U. S.

GREAT BRITAIN'S DELEGATION TO MEETING ARRIVES

Washington Greets Representatives From England
On Thursday.

Washington, Nov. 10.—With the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "God Save the King," sounding through the chill morning air, Great Britain's delegation to the armament conference, arrived here today at 9:30.

The delegation was headed by Right Hon. A. J. Balfour and included Sir Maurice Hankey, Sir John Gordon, Lieut. General Lord Cavan and technical experts.

Sir A. J. Salmon, representative of New Zealand and Senator Pearce representative of Australia, arriving on a different train, pulled into the union station at the same time as the main body of British delegates.

Secretary of State Hughes, General Pershing and other high dignitaries received the delegation on behalf of the U. S.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT DROP CAMPAIGN

Washington, Nov. 10.—Although the status of limitation becomes effective tomorrow in the cases of those who are alleged to have protracted and grafted at the expense of the government during the war, the department of justice announced that it will not drop its prosecutions.

The attorney general will contend that the status of limitations should not become effective until three years after the date that the department of justice was "officially apprised" of the alleged overt acts.

A court decision on this point will be sought, if the alleged profiteers contend they are entitled to immunity on grounds that the statute of limitations became effective three years after the armistice.

"A drop of Irish whiskey is my favorite drink. I would hate to do without it. Prohibition, it is a rotten thing. It does not mean at all that the country goes dry. It means simply that the rich get all they want and the poor are forced to drink stuff that does them lots of harm."

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

DOES YOUR FAMILY LIKE CARAMEL FLAVORING?

A good many housekeepers seldom make cakes and puddings with a caramel flavor. Often this is not because their families don't like the flavor—but because "it's so much trouble" to caramelize the sugar!

The housekeeper who is a "good manager," however, does not even consider going to the nuisance of caramelizing her sugar each time she starts to bake a caramel cake; instead she makes a large quantity of caramel syrup and keeps this in a bottle ready for instant use. This is done in the following way:

Put granulated sugar into a saucepan or a frying pan over the fire, stir constantly until the sugar has melted and becomes a deep brown, add an equal amount of boiling water. This makes a thick syrup. Boil it up for a minute or two, then pour it into fruit jars or old catsup bottles.

If it should become sugary, add a little water to it when reheating in amounts needed. Try this syrup in one of the following recipes:

Caramel Fudge Cake: Mix together 1 1/4 cups of cold, thick caramel syrup and 1-3 cup of butter; add 2 well beaten eggs and 1 cup of sweet milk or water. Stir in 3 cups of flour which have been sifted with 2 teaspoons of baking powder and 1-4 teaspoon salt. Bake in 2 layers in a hot oven for about 30 minutes, and fill with the following:

Fudge Filling: Cook 1 cup of thick caramel syrup, 1-2 cup of milk, a pinch of salt and 1-4 cup of grated unsweetened chocolate together, and when it forms a soft ball in cold water add 2 tablespoons of butter. Remove from range and beat vigorously until it begins to cream, then spread it on the layers at once.

The Jamestown Community Service club will hold their monthly meeting on Friday afternoon the 11th. The program will be the "Child's Welfare." Miss Helen Evers, the Red Cross nurse of Greene County, will give an address, "The Health Condition of the Child." While the Rev. L. L. Gray will speak on "The Spiritual Need of the Child." Good music will be a feature of the program. Light refreshments will be served by the committee.

Frank Harper who resides north of town has been very ill for the past several days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Thompson entertained a party of friends on Thursday evening with cards.

THE NEW GENERATION

By Jane Phelps

MARGARET AND MRS. WALTERS CONFER.

CHAPTER 85

It seemed to Margaret that time fairly flew: that there were not hours enough in the day to do all that this new life of hers gave her to do. To Janet Walters she said:

"Some day I'm going back long enough to get rested. I don't mean physically, I never felt so well, so vital in my life. But to get my poor brain rested. I do nothing but think of Joan every minute; no matter what I am doing, subconsciously she is always in my thoughts. And when you are thinking of one thing and another is underlying it, you get brain fag. It is as if my brain were a layer cake, and the thoughts of Joan were the bottom layer, the last to leave the plate of my mind, the first to rest upon it."

"What a comparison!" Mrs. Walters laughed heartily. "You'll soon be doing as quaint things as Joan does."

"Did Ted—tell you?" Margaret well as she knew Janet Walters, felt a little hesitancy in asking if she knew of Ted's proposal to Joan. If he had not told his mother, she would feel almost as if she had betrayed a confidence.

"Yes, he told me Joan had absolutely refused to marry him," Janet broke off in another peal of laughter.

"Ted he said even promised to commit suicide when she fired of him, but she wouldn't allow the sacrifice."

"I know! She told me that she repeated what she once said to me—that she would never marry unless the man promised to leave her a widow when she tired of him."

"What an original creature she is! But I must tell you Margaret, that Ted didn't seem as utterly cast down as he might. He said: 'Give her her fling a little longer and she'll be more willing to listen to me perhaps.'

"So I think. This Bohemian business will surely pall on her after a time. Joan, and one or two others like him, are against the free and easy life, and more than worries me."

"You mean that fellow with the soiled linen?"

"Yes."

"Don't worry one minute about him. There's psychology in that linen if you like to dub it that. Should he propose to a dainty girl like Joan, she would see that linen, and wonder about his habits even while he was talking of his love."

"It isn't his love talk I am afraid of. It is his talk of needing her to bring out the best that is in him." Then, "Oh, why are girls so suspicious to that need men talk about before marriage?" It's the stock in trade of men like Tennant."

THE EFFICIENT WOMEN

We hear a great deal nowadays about the efficiency of women. In the novels of fifty years ago, who ever heard a woman praised for her executive ability, force, and energy, in the sense that it is used today. The frail, delicate, helpless ideal of womanhood has passed away. How is it possible to measure up to the ideals of modern womanhood? In the first place, we must keep our bodies in the best possible condition.

Thousands of women have succeeded through daily baths, exercise in the fresh air, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of female weakness.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10.—Marshall Foch of France arrived in Pittsburgh, shortly after 9 o'clock today. Originally he had been scheduled to come to the Pennsylvania station but the secret service had been advised through the American Legion that an attack might be made against the marshal and it was decided that no chances would be taken and he was shifted through Braddock, a suburb. Only the official reception committee and other high city officials knew of the secret change in the routing of the marshal's party and these were at the only ones to welcome him at Braddock. Thousands waited in vain at the Pennsylvania station for a glimpse of the great warrior.

According to confidential information received by the International News Service, an attack had been hatched here against the great Frenchman. The details are not clear but the impression prevails that attempt to assassinate him was the aim.

That the U. S. secret service was cognizant of this was evidenced by the fact when Foch passed through Pittsburgh on his way to Kansas City a great crowd had assembled at the Pennsylvania station to greet him but as his train was about to arrive that morning the secret service agents in charge in Pittsburgh would permit no one to go near the marshal's car. Even the French consul in Pittsburgh, who is one of America's most distinguished physicians and scientists, was also barred. No explanation was made then or since of this action.

Today it became known that an anonymous tip said to have been sent by a Frenchman here, went to the legion authorities that an attack might be made. The details of this supposed plot have not been revealed. At any rate plans were changed secretly for the marshal's entry to this city and up to his arrival today but half a dozen people were aware of the change or why it had been made.

After Foch reached Braddock and had been welcomed he was hastily bundled into a waiting automobile and driven to Homestead, just across the river, where he was taken through the great Homestead plant of the U. S. Steel corporation.

After his visit there he was taken to Soldiers' Memorial Hall where at 10:30 he was to receive honorary degrees from the University of Pittsburgh and also from Duquesne University.

Later a series of dinners and receptions followed. At 3 o'clock no one was to head a great military and civic parade through the city.

GENERAL STRIKE SPREADS RAPIDLY ROME INDICATES

Walkout Paralyzes Rail-
way Traffic to and From
Italian City.

Rome, Nov. 10.—The general strike called by the chamber of labor in protest against anti-radical activities of the fascists, was spreading rapidly today. The fascists, following their meeting here, held a parade during which there was some fighting between the paraders and striking railway workers. The general strike was called after the railway workers had protested to the fascist congresses against anti-socialist activities of members of that organization, particularly the attacks upon the communist party, signs Zanardi and Tuntar.

One railway worker was killed in a fight with the fascists.

Many members of the fascists have been arriving in Rome, Milan, and other cities to join their comrades.

The general strike has practically paralyzed traffic to and from Rome and the walkout of electric light workers has left the city in partial darkness at night.

TRY OPERATION ON BIG REPTILE

New York, Nov. 10.—Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, curator of the Bronx Zoo today planned to make another attempt to remove a film from the eyes of a King cobra snake following failure of an operation in which three men fought for their lives against the reptile.

Ditmars, with two other keepers, struggled for an hour to subdue the snake, which is thirteen feet long. The snake wrapped his sinuous body about the three men and almost broke Ditmars' grip at the base of the reptile's head.

A similar operation was successfully performed on another cobra, 9 feet long.

POMERENE MAY DEMAND NAVAL PLANS STOPPED

Would Suspend Building
Program Pending Conference Decision.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Unless an immediate suspension of naval construction is decided upon during the first few days of the conference on limitation of armament and far eastern questions, Senator Pomerene, Democrat, Ohio, member of the senate foreign relations committee will demand senate action of his resolution authorizing President Harding to suspend, in whole or in part, the present navy building program of the United States, he announced today.

Senator Pomerene's announcement, following closely a visit he paid to the president at the White House, was regarded as foreshadowing a renewal of his fight to have American naval construction stopped pending any disposition the conference may make of the most problem of reducing naval armaments in different prisons.

General amnesty for war law violators is being considered by the attorney general in connection with his recommendations in the Debs case, to be ready for the president. The Debs recommendations have not been signed by Attorney General Daugherty. It was said today, however, that Mr. Daugherty has revised his original draft of the findings, prepared for the president and that the document is about ready to be sent to the White House.

He refused to discuss what had transpired between him and the president during their discussion of the subject, nor would he reply to pointed questions as to whether he thought the president was likely to heed any action the senate might take in the matter.

In official circles it was predicted that the Pomerene resolution would meet with stiff opposition from Republican leaders of the senate.

Oldest "VC" in World Pays Canada's Tribute to Dead

Sergeant George F. Richardson, 92, Who Won Victoria
Cross 62 Years Ago In India Comes to Washington as Dominion's Representative.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Sergeant George F. Richardson, the oldest "VC" in the world, paid Canada's tribute to the unknown American war dead today by depositing a simple wreath of Canadian maple leaves on the casket at the capitol.

He is 92 years old, straight and supple as a youth and with a mind as alert, as it was when he won his Victoria Cross 62 years ago in India. His official citation said:

"That Richardson did, despite the fact his arm was broken by a rifle bullet and leg slashed by a sabre, rush to the aid of his officer, who was attacked by six natives and that he died as he was, succeeded in killing five and the sixth fled."

Richardson is an Irishman by birth and his life has been an odyssey of adventure. Withal he is profoundly religious.

THOUSANDS OFFER SILENT TRIBUTE BEFORE BIER OF UNKNOWN SOLDIER

Gray Haired Mothers, High Officials of Government, Battle Scarred Veterans and Envys of World Powers File Revere ntly Past Catafalque Where Reposes

America's Nameless Hero—Will Lie in State Until 10 p. m.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Moving reverently through the shadowed rotunda of the national capitol, gray haired mothers and high officials of the government, battle-scarred war veterans and envoys of world powers paid homage and tribute today at the bier of America's nameless hero.

Beneath a mountain of laurel and roses, he slept the sleep from which none may awake, reposing upon the catafalque which has borne Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, until he shall be buried at Arlington as a symbol of the love and gratitude of a mighty nation for her honored dead.

Only the wreath placed there by the president of the United States rested on the simple oaken casket when the sun rose over the great white dome of the capitol this morning. At 8 o'clock the solemn processional began. This afternoon scores of floral tributes had been deposited at the bier by religious, fraternal and military organizations and by representatives of foreign governments.

Thousands, who were not permitted to pause at the catafalque, filed through the rotunda, offering silent tribute. Tears expressive of the nation's profound sorrow glistened unashamed in many eyes as citizens of high and lower estate mingled in the endless human stream.

The unknown will lie in state until ten o'clock tonight guarded by a detachment of army engineers who have kept their vigil under the great dome since the body arrived from France last night. After 10 o'clock none will be admitted until the morning of Nov. 11, when the armistice day ceremonies begin.

The first delegation to arrive at the capitol today represented the federal council of churches. It comprised a number of leading ministers, who, after a few minutes at the casket, gave way to members of the American Ambulance Association. Wreaths were then deposited by officials of the Rotary clubs, and behind the Rotarians came members of the National Women's Overseas Service League—themselves veterans of grueling days on dusty roads and in muddy trenches.

The United Spanish War Veterans, men who served with Roosevelt and Dewey, marched by, their heads bowed. They were followed by officers and men who served with Pershing—members of the forty second, twenty eighth and eighty second divisions of the A. E. F.

At 10 o'clock, Vice President Coolidge entered the rotunda to take part in the first formal ceremonies of the day. They were conducted by the veterans of foreign wars, composed entirely of men who saw service outside the United States.

After the veterans of foreign wars had retired, wreaths were laid upon the catafalque by representatives of the thirty seventh division, the veterans of Indian wars, the Peruvian embassy, the Daughters of Veterans, the Portuguese legation and the boy scouts of America.

Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, came accompanied by his staff to pay Great Britain's tribute. He was followed by the national officers of the American Red Cross and former members of the sixth division, who arrived shortly after noon.

In rapid succession, pausing only to lay flowers upon the casket and to murmur a brief prayer, there passed the Women of the Army and Navy Legion of Valor, officers of the Young Men's Christian Association, men of the second and fifth divisions, A. E. F. women of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary, the U. S. Daughters of 1812, the Young Women's Christian Association and the Women's Overseas League.

After his country's tribute at 2:30, offer his country's tribute at 2:30 p. m.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT DROP CAMPAIGN

Washington, Nov. 10.—Although the status of limitation becomes effective tomorrow in the cases of those who are alleged to have protracted and grafted at the expense of the government during the war, the department of justice announced that it will not drop its prosecutions.

The attorney general will contend that the status of limitations should not become effective until three years after the date that the department of justice was "officially apprised" of the alleged overt acts.

A court decision on this point will be sought, if the alleged profiteers contend they are entitled to immunity on grounds that the statute of limitations became effective three years after the armistice.

Despite his rigorous life, the aged VC is in almost perfect health.

"How do I do it?" he mused. "Well, eat plenty of oat meal porridge, little meat and plenty of vegetables."

"A drop of Irish whiskey is my favorite drink. I would hate to do without it. Prohibition, it is a rotten thing. It does not mean at all that the country goes dry. It means simply that the rich get all they want and the poor are forced to drink stuff that does them lots of harm."

Richardson is an Irishman by birth and his life has been an odyssey of adventure. Withal he is profoundly religious.

HARDING PLEADS FOR

Washington, Nov. 10.—President Harding asked the American people to give their liberal support to the annual campaign of the Red Cross for relief contributions, which begins on Armistice Day and continues for two weeks.

The call of the Red Cross, the president said in a formal statement, should be regarded as "the call of country and humanity."

He set aside next Sunday as Red Cross Sunday, and requested that churches throughout the land devote that day to emphasizing "the gospel of service."

EXPEDITE WORK OF PAYING OFF SOLDIER BONUS

Money Will Be Distributed
Without Further Action of Legislature.

Columbus, Nov. 10.—That the work of distributing the soldier bonus will be expedited as much as possible is the announcement made following a conference held by Attorney General Price, Secretary of State Smith and State Auditor Tracy, constituting the state sinking fund commission which will have charge of the administration of the veterans compensation amendment fund. Indications today are that the soldier bonus amendment to the state constitution was adopted by a majority of over 600,000 votes. Secretary of State Smith decided not to make any tabulations of returns until complete official figures are received.

Former soldiers are telephoning and telephoning state officials inquiring about plans of payment of the bonus. State officials stated that an organization will have to be perfected and bonds sold before payments can begin.

It is expected that bonds will sell readily. Bond buyers have asked for copies of the soldier bonus amendment. Money derived from bond sales will be turned into the state treasury and paid out to beneficiaries upon order of the sinking fund commissioners without additional action by the state legislature.

EXPLAINS PURPOSE OF PROPOSED MILK PRODUCERS' BODY

At a meeting Saturday, Nov. 12, at 1:30 p. m., in the Court House, plans of the Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers' Association will be explained.

The organization will handle milk and cream and act as a sales company for this district. The organization is simple, calling for membership only and not for the buying of stock. The initial fee is $3.00 per member with 10¢ extra for each cow owned over 10. There are no annual dues so that is all the fee that will ever be required.

The make up of the organization is democratic, giving every man equal right in conducting the business of the association irrespective of his size of business. The association is to be made up of local units combined into a county unit and the county units in turn from the district. Each local association will be represented according to membership.

Three important benefits have come to farmers who compose similar associations: first, better prices; second, improved product; and third, contentment to the producers because their products are collected, handled, tested and sold by their own representatives.

Largest gains through this organization it is said, will come from economies in the matter of collecting and selling the product. It is not formed to handicap the buyers, but to help him to conduct his business in a more economical way, those interested say.

CHRISTMAS SEALS WILL BE SOLD BY SERVICE LEAGUE

The Christmas seal sale which will be launched in Xenia and the surrounding county again this year just before the holiday season will be conducted as usual in the interest of those activities of the Social Service League which combat the spread of tuberculosis. These activities are two fold, the provision for care under proper conditions of tubercular patients and the elimination of conditions conducive to tuberculosis.

Each seal is in itself an advertisement of the splendid work carried on in the United States against tuberculosis. The Anti-tuberculosis League, which has now for many years carried forward this never ending fight against the "white plague," places the sale of its Anti-tuberculosis Christmas seals in Greene County, as heretofore, not in the hands of the Red Cross as some buyers in the past have thought, but in the hands of the Social Service League.

around the club house; children are allowed at the club and the playing of the younger folk is much encouraged. This is bound to result in time in fine players for champions grow up with a club. The enjoyable foursome in which I played was composed of Mr. Nathan Ascher, who has a beautiful home near the club, Mr. Hugo Oppenheimer and Mr. Mark Bernstein, and they were all good players. I came away from Idlewild feeling very sure that it is among the best clubs in the Chicago district; it is also a real country club where members in Xenia township, $1.00.

I saw many interesting things.

One does not, generally speaking, hear much about the club, for its members are not inclined to boast even though they have every reason to be proud of their club and course, and I for one am much surprised at their modesty.

The course like all progressive courses has continued to improve. It has grown in excellence as the years went by. The club too, has been fortunate in its professional, Al Naylor, who has been with it all these years. Had he had the wander-fever, an affliction from which many good professionals suffer, the Idlewild course would not be so good as it is to-day, for a constant change of pros, is a bad thing for clubs and courses. Today at Idlewild there is not only a fine golf course but a very good looking one, its trim appearance adding much to one's pleasure in it. The splendid placements of the traps is a feature of the course and their irregular lines and sand-splashed faces have unusual value in the landscape.

They have one hole well over 600 yards. I think it is the longest hole in the west, and a very good one, too. Three improved holes of the last nine are especially good, the 15th, 16th, and 17th. The 16th is about the tiniest hole with the largest amount of trouble about it that I have ever seen. But it is useless to specify holes for the whole course is good, and I should say that altogether it is in the placing and the making of traps that the course excels.

Better even than the course is the fine friendly spirit that prevails at Idlewild; it is like one family. Many of the members have beautiful homes

At that time the nation will solemnly recall the signing of the armistice all over the country, when business will be suspended, and the public will reflect on the occasion for a few minutes. CITY COMMISSION
WILL ELECT MAYOR AND PRESIDENTTWO FORGERIES ARE REPORTED TO POLICE
BY LOCAL COMPANY

The new city commission, which will take office January 1, 1922, will have to elect a new president and a new mayor.

J. T. Charters, present president of the commission and Arthur Whalen, mayor of the city, will, with C. S. Frazer, retire from the commission, their duties ending December 31, necessitating that the new commission elect both new officers.

When the first commission was elected after the adoption of the commission-manager form of government here, according to the provisions of the city charter, J. Thorb Charters, receiving the highest number of votes at the first election, automatically became president of the commission.

That body, at its first meeting when Mr. Charters took the chair, elected Dr. A. D. DeHaven, vice president of the commission and elected Arthur Whalen, mayor, it being necessary to have one officer with that title because of the state laws. The same officers have held office ever since.

The charter provides that the president of the commission should be elected by a vote of the commission itself, just the same as the mayor. The new commission will be composed of Dr. A. D. DeHaven and Harry Fisher, who hold over and H. L. Smith, M. J. Hartley and George E. Hudson, elected Tuesday who will find one of their first duties the selection of a mayor and president.

THE U. S. READY TO BLAZE THE TRAIL FOR ARMISTICE PARLEY.

America's program for the Washington conference is complete. Details remain to be perfected, methods of procedure finally formulated, and finishing touches applied, but our broad strategic lines are drawn and ready for the fray. The United States is prepared to assert the leadership it assumed when President Harding convened the conference.

With respect to both of its cardinal branches—the Far East and the limitation of armaments—the American delegation will submit concrete propositions. The United States hopes and believes its proposals will be found debatable. They will not be offered in a dogmatic spirit. They are expected to evoke counter-proposals and generally to pave the way to constructive results.

Specific points in the American program for solving Far Eastern problems and limiting armament will not be revealed until the conference has settled down to actual business sessions. But when President Harding has delivered his opening address to the conference on the morning of November 12, the world will be pretty thoroughly informed of the hopes and plans the United States cherishes.

UNCLE SAM ASSISTING TRADE WITH 600 SURVEY EXPERTS.

An army of 600 trade experts now is "covering" the world under the direction of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Secretary Hoover said, to assist American business men, manufacturers, farmers and exporters in capturing foreign markets.

Secretary Hoover appealed to business men to make greater use of the facilities of the Government in the competition in foreign fields. The Government last year assisted American concerns in gaining approximately $1,000,000,000 worth of foreign business, it is estimated.

"The Department of Commerce now is better equipped than ever to help business men," said Secretary Hoover.

Under an appropriation of $250,000 the Bureau of Foreign Commerce has been reorganized by Secretary Hoover with the aim of becoming more pointedly effective in supporting the Nation's attempt to expand its foreign trade. Many new divisions have been set up.

Business men and experts in virtually all important lines of trade and manufacturing have been drawn into the bureau.

Under the reorganization the Government now possesses facilities in foreign fields that no single concern, no matter how great, could possibly maintain.

A TOWN THAT BOASTS NO DEBTS, AND WHERE TROUBLE IS UNKNOWN.

A telegraph dispatch from Charleston, West Virginia, November 4th, says: This village of 42 families challenges the world for honors as the most model and contented town in this troubled, mundane sphere.

There are 35 families with an average of four persons to the clan in the village who own their own homes and seven other families who pay the landlord.

Of the 35 home owners, but one has an encumbrance on his property and that is small.

An undenominational church is presided over by a clergyman who believes and teaches that the world was made for the "son of man," regardless of his creed, and whose daily unction to his parishioners is to practice the Golden Rule.

Every resident of the town is a member of the church.

There are no poor people in Stony Bottom, neither are there any who can claim to be rich.

Twelve automobiles are owned by residents. There is no record of debt in Stony Bottom, and everybody appears to be happy and contented with life.

In the town school the pupils are taught to believe that honesty, straightforward dealing and sobriety are the foundations upon which happiness of the human race depends.

It has been years since a crime worthy of the name was committed in Stony Bottom, and the last jail prisoner is not in the memory of the younger generation.

WHAT THEY SEE.

The great foreign commanders who witnessed the march of the American Legion in Kansas City saw more than a parade and heard more than the music and the cheering.

Said Marshal Foch: "Here is the soul of the United States—men of high ideals, men who would make a fine backbone for any nation."

"The American soldier," said General Diaz, "is that most dangerous type of fighter—the fighter who smiles."

"The Legion," declared Admiral Beatty, "is a power which is important to influence the world."

And General Jacques, of Belgium, declared: "They have the souls of eternal youth; they are sublime."

These leaders are accustomed to evaluate men, in the largest armies, by far, that history records. They have witnessed heroism in every manifestation. Men who failed to rise to what was expected of them in the line of duty never won their eulogy. Their utterance is the appraisal of soldiers by soldiers who themselves went through every tribulation of the war.

No man who has known from within what the American armies did in France will venture to belittle their performance or to underrate the quality of the men who composed the rank and file. The testimony of those who well knew whom they led is the veracious and acceptable evidence.

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick.

FIRST OFFICIAL MESSAGE
Voicing her appreciation for the "valuable legacy" of standing committee chairmen, Mrs. Cornelius S. Selover, Cleveland, newly-elected president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, in her first official message to club women of the state, says:

"I wish to speak of the valuable legacy left me by my predecessors in the corps of capable chairmen of the standing committees of the Ohio federation. Some of them seemed to give the impression that these were their final reports, but for the benefit of those who may not know I want to explain that the standing committees of the General federation consist of state chairmen of corresponding committees of the state federation and their term of office does not expire until the close of the next biennial of the General federation. We can readily understand what chaos there would be in the committees of the General federation if their personnel were constantly changing with each state's election. So, we are to have another club year of active service by our chairmen, assisted by the members of their respective committees, until June 1922."

Mrs. Selover's new address is No. 1958 East Seventy-first street, Cleveland.

DISTRICT MEETINGS

District meetings will be held in the spring and again next fall when they will take the place of the regular state convention. Every fall thereafter, or until the time of the district conventions may be changed again, they will be conducted, probably some time in November after the election.

KEEPING IN MIND

Remembering the warning sounded by Mrs. Selover in her inaugural address as state president, Ohio Federation members must keep their organizations absolutely non-partisan if they would wield the greatest power for good.

It is possible that a bill may from time to time be introduced through a Republican or a Democrat, but this will be done only because the individual in the particular case may be more powerful. However, it is Mrs. Selover's announced purpose more particularly to emphasize the development of the literary and musical work of the clubs in the state federation.

ANOTHER ADMONITION

That club women should be guarded in remarks, publicly made and carrying criticism, is the admonition that ought to be followed by all club women, whether in office or out of office. At least, that is the way the officials of the state federation feel about it, especially since the unfortunate publicity given the Ohio Federation and Mrs. James R. Hopley, of Bucyrus, a past state president. In a public statement, immediately after her attention was called to reports published in some newspapers regarding alleged criticisms of certain state institutions, Mrs. Hopley emphatically declared she had been misquoted. In a later statement addressed to Ohio club woman she says: "My sole remarks concerning state institutions were concerning our interest, as a federation in the appointment of Mrs. Sarah Douglas as superintendent of the Girls' Industrial School, saying that heretofore the governors of Ohio have not acquiesced in our appeal for the appointment of a superintendent there whom we had investigated and endorsed. In replying to the remarks that the general assembly had not appropriated money enough to build institutions of work for girls, I illustrated by tell-

TRANQUILITY.

Though evils burden this poor globe, and wrong makes right an also ran, I do not yell or tear my robe, or follow any noisy plan; I'd like to see a change, in sooth, to see the right in better luck but years have taught me this great truth—it never helps to run amuck. The agitators who uprear on kegs and boxes, in the mart and shriek that doom is drawing near unless we tear all things apart, would never help us dodge that fate, in case its solemn hour struck; one thing is true, one truth is straight—it never helps to run amuck. I pin my faith to wise old boys who make the good things come to pass, who don't believe in empty noise, in booming drums or sounding brass. They straighten things that are amiss, while agitators paw and buck, and watching them has taught me this—it never helps to run amuck. The tranquil men who use their domes will solve our problems, one by one, while Windy Willie rants and foams and says the nation's course is run; the tranquil men will demonstrate the worth of quiet thought and pluck; and this is sure as death or fate—it never helps to run amuck.

"THE SKY RANGER"

WILL START GAME AT WILMINGTON ON FRIDAY AT 1 P.M.

Xenia football fans who expected to attend the game at Wilmington, Friday afternoon, between Central high and Wilmington high should know that the game will start at one o'clock in the afternoon.

Owing to the fact that Wilmington College will play Defiance College on the same field, that afternoon, thereby offering the bugs the unusual treat of a double-header football program, the high school game, which will be played first, will have to start at one o'clock.

Coach Chick Harper, of the Quaker College eleven, in Xenia, Wednesday, said that regular length quarters will be played by both teams, and that it is hoped to start the college contest at 2:30 o'clock. The comparative strength of the four teams which will battle on the oblong, indicates an interesting football menu for the day.

Defiance College has best shown its strength by playing Kenyon a 7-7 tie and by running up a score of 119-0 on Findlay, and Coach Harper is anticipating no easy game in the coming set-to. Since the defeat of the high school team earlier in the season by Xenia on the local gridiron, Coach Black has been grooming his charges for the second combat of these teams, and he is promising Coach Katherman's crew a merry afternoon of it.

One of the largest crowds of fans that ever migrated from Xenia to follow a football team is expected to accompany the blue and white eleven to the Clinton county capital. High school students are admitted to the game for 50 cents, it is announced and Principal Harper Pendry, of Central High, has a quantity of the card boards for local students. Regular tickets will be sold for 75 cents apiece and are on sale at Boring's Book Store.

Nelson "Knocky" Rupp, Denison and Dr. C. H. Denser, Cincinnati, will handle the high school game and Rupp and Jerry Katherman, Ohio Northern, will officiate for the college fracas.

successfully disguises the plainness of the cut. The material is navy blue serge.

The sleeves, of course, are an inescapable point of interest. Their secret lies in the extremely wide armhole. From these, and others which I am showing this week, it is plain that we are passing out of the period when sleeves were as nothing in the scheme of a dress. In this season's dresses—at least in many of the styles—the novelty of the sleeve all but dominates the design.

Governor Harry L. Davis wired his congratulations to C. L. Darlington, of this city. Commander of the American Legion, Wednesday, on the victory of the soldiers' bonus bill.

The telegram received here during the absence of Captain Darlington is as follows:

Captain Darlington has not yet returned from Cleveland where he greeted Marshal Foch, Wednesday.

VOLUNTEER MEDICAL AND SURGICAL STAFF OF HOME GATHERS

Members of the volunteer medical and surgical staff of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Homes gathered at that institution Thursday, for their sixteenth annual meeting.

Between the hours of twelve and one o'clock the visiting physicians, who form a volunteer consulting and examining staff which gives free medical or surgical services to children in the Home, inspected a number of children who are ill or who have physical defects.

At one o'clock, the medical men enjoyed their annual dinner at the Home, Dr. W. A. Galloway, of this city, Dean of the staff, presiding at a brief program of after-dinner speeches during which D. Q. Marrow, Hillsboro member of the board of trustees of the Home, and Col. Sylvester Garver, superintendent of the institution, delivered short addresses of welcome.

Following the dinner the staff listened to an address by Dr. R. C. Longfellow, Toledo, in the parlors of the administration building. Dr. Longfellow is a traveller who makes an annual excursion to some part of the world and his address, Thursday afternoon, told of his trip to Palestine and the Holy Land.

The volunteer medical and surgical staff meets once yearly. It has twenty-one members, Dr. W. A. Galloway, Xenia, dean, Dr. A. C. Messenger, Xenia, secretary, Dr. Reed Madden, Xenia, Dr. C. L. Patterson, Dayton, Dr. J. E. Griewe, Cincinnati, Dr. Robert C. Rind, Springfield, Dr. W. H. Finley, Xenia, Dr. J. O. Larkin, Hillsboro, Dr. Cassius M. Shepherd, Columbus, Dr. Hugh A. Baldwin, Columbus, Dr. Robert Sattler, Cincinnati, Dr. Andrew Timberman, Columbus, Dr. Horace Bonner, Dayton, Dr. Charles J. Shepherd, Columbus, Dr. R. H. Grube, Xenia, Dr. R. C. Longfellow, Toledo, Dr. Burch C. West Dayton, Dr. A. F. Shepherd, Dayton, and Dr. Clarence R. Rex, of Toledo. All of these physicians with the exception of Dr. Griewe, Dr. Rhu, Dr. Baldwin, Dr. Charles J. Shepherd and Dr. West were present, Thursday, as were also Dr. McCullagh, of Troy, and Dr. Gotwald, of Springfield, guests of the staff members.

Health Talks

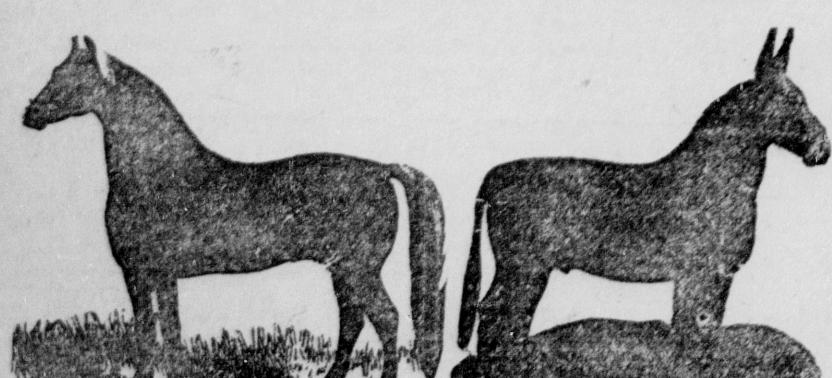

SCARLET FEVER

The incubation—that is, the hatching period—of scarlet fever is from two to four days. Then comes the invasion, suddenly and often at night, with vomiting, "red paint" sore throat, and a high fever; in severe cases and with very young children, convulsions. There is the "beefs" "cat's" or "strawberry" tongue. The eyes are generally not inflamed. Then at the end of the first or the second day—"one to begin and two to show"—comes the scarlet colored eruption, first on the chest and neck; it is often pretty well spread out and made up of many red points underlying the general flush. This eruption disappears first where it appeared first and in from three to five days. It peels off in shreds. As complications of scarlet fever we have to fear inflammation of the middle ear, swollen glands in the neck, kidney disease, joint inflammation, neuritis and pneumonia.

Scarlet fever is, like diphtheria and measles, caught by direct contact, also by breathing in the minute droplets coughed or sneezed out when one comes close to the patient. The air which the patient breathes is not in itself infectious. The disease is also caught from the towels, handkerchiefs, dishes and so on, on which the patient has been using.

The peeling in scarlet fever is not nearly so catching as the discharge from the sore throat and nose in the beginning of the disease. All the same, children with scarlet fever must be isolated, quarantined (most health departments make this period nine weeks), kept apart from other children, until the skin is clear, and all discharges from the nose and throat have stopped. There are mild forms of scarlet fever (scarlatinina) as there are mild forms of measles, or of diphtheria; but you can catch the disease severely from a mild case. Take no chances, a child with only a sore throat and a slight rash may be the means of spreading dangerous infection.

DRINK BUTTERMILK

Very few people realize how valuable buttermilk is as an aid to good health and good looks. Simply as a reminder I would like to make a list of some of the many uses of this inexpensive drink.

If you are reducing drink buttermilk. The caloric value of a glassful is only 80. It has the same amount of nourishment as a glass of skim milk, but it contains acids which are beneficial to the system.

If you have a muddy skin drink buttermilk. The acids mentioned above stimulate certain organs in the body so that the skin will become clear and fresh.

If you are trying to gain weight and cannot drink whole milk, as the case with so many women, drink buttermilk with cream added. To make this drink fattening you should add four or more tablespoonfuls of cream. It will give the buttermilk a richer taste.

If you have indigestion drink buttermilk which will aid you in digesting other foods and is itself one of the most easily assimilated articles of nourishment.

If your skin has become tanned or freckled use buttermilk externally. It bleaches the skin and gives it a soft, fine feeling. It will not, of course, completely eliminate all freckles, but it will help to do so.

If your skin has become rough or chopped, rub it with buttermilk, for this will keep it soft and in good condition.

If you want an unusually good bleach scrape two tablespoonsful of horseradish into a cup of buttermilk, massage this into the arms or the neck. If you use it on the face be careful not to let any of it get into the eyes.

Pink Eyes—Children are often cured of sucking their thumbs through having something painted on the ends of them that is unpleasant to the taste, but harmless to their digestion. Bitter aloe is used for this. During the hours of sleeping the hand should be encased in a mitten without a thumb, as a child who is broken of this habit during sleep, will rarely have to be corrected for it during the waking hours.

Maud H.—Do not take the water late in the day and you will not have this trouble. Take one pint of very warm water before breakfast and if you salt it slightly, you will find that you will not have to resort to these pills. The salt in the water carries it into the intestines, where it assists in cleansing the system through this channel. If the salt is omitted the kidneys act upon it and are flushed.

Reader—As you bleached the coloring from the hair, nothing will help.

ADVICE FOR WOMEN WHO SUFFER.

"I advise every woman who suffers with kidney trouble to try Foley Kidney Pills," writes Mrs. Bessie Brawner, 2522 Scoville Ave., Cleveland, O. "I could not do my housework, but since taking Foley Kidney Pills I feel like a new woman and am able to do my work." Rheumatic pains, swollen ankles, backache, stiff joints, sore muscles and sleep disturbing bladder ailments indicate disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills act promptly. Sayre & Hemphill.

OHIO DELEGATION MADE FINE SHOWING AT LEGION MEETING

Russell Greiner, former Xenian, and now prominent Rotarian, in a recent letter to the Gazette and the Republican, written from Kansas City, his home, has the following to say of the American Legion Convention there:

"My old friends in Xenia I am sure will be proud to learn of the splendid showing made by the Legionnaires from Ohio, headed by that popular Xenian, the State Commander, Charles Darlington. While they did not have as great a number in the parade as some of the other states, I am proud to say that I feel that they made the best appearance. It surely made my heart swell with pride when the big parade passed me, to see Charlie at the head of the Ohio boys, bearing himself with the dignity of a great general, directly followed by a massing of the flags of the Ohio Posts, which was by far the most beautiful display of any in the parade. And you must remember that this was probably the greatest military parade ever held in this country, 60,000 men in line."

"Let me assure all my old Xenian friends that they could well be proud of Charlie and his Ohio delegation."

CHURCHES TO UNITE IN PRAYER SERVICE ON ARMISTICE DAY

At 7:30 o'clock, on the evening of Armistice Day, all the churches of the city, will unite in a prayer service, at the First Reformed Church. The service will be held as a response to the request of President Harding, in behalf of the limitation of armaments.

The Rev. Albert Read will preside at the service and the Rev. G. A. Scott of the First M. E. Church, will make the opening address.

HOME MISSION DAY WILL BE OBSERVED

The Mount Zion Reformed Church will observe the annual Home Mission Day with special services next Sunday at 10:30 o'clock. The topic of the service will be "Building the Church".

The Board of Home Missions, through this service, contemplates the erection of a memorial, in the form of a $25,000 church building fund to bear the name of Superintendent A. C. Witmer and to be used in the erection of church buildings among the church missions. Mr. Witmer was the father and founder of the church building fund.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one will tell because it's done so naturally, so easily. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and trouble-some. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes perfectly darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet preparation, not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SECOND LECTURE WILL BE DELIVERED THURSDAY EVENING

The second of the Charlotte Reeves Conover Lectures, under the auspices of the Xenia Woman's Business and Professional Club, will be held at the Reformed Church, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Conover's second address will be upon the book "Mirrors of Washington". This book is one that is arousing much discussion, being written anonymously, and patrons of the series of lectures in this city are looking forward to Mrs. Conover's review.

In the course of her address, Mrs. Conover will also review another book, "Close-ups of Washington", another popular publication. A portion of the evening's address will be devoted to current events, upon the following subjects: "Strikes Off and On, and their Effect", "Our Latest Congressional Crime", "Partisanship and Non-Partisanship in Public Affairs", "Harry Lauder on Peace", and "The Personnel of the Conference".
